Field Visit Reports

Date	Location	Participants
14-15 March	Melamchi N.P	Aarju Basnet, Pranjali Bhandari
Objective	- To organize Palika level meeting with Gaupalika, wards, and field engineers - To conduct survey on temporary shelter, woman beneficiary, woman mason and CRC. - To meet Ward Chairmen, observe the progress, discuss issues and way forward

Ward Office. Dubachaur, Melamchi-7. The Ward Chairman complains the negligence of previous field engineer, who wasn't able to fulfill his responsibilities because he was also a full-time teacher in a technical school, and was able to go to field in Dubachaur only during his free time. However, the new DLPIU engineer has been working hard to get the households inspected and submit the checklist to DLPIU.

Dubachaur, Melamchi-7. A house supported by Helvetas. Wood treatment is applied in all wooden members.

Joint monitoring visit with M&E Officer, DLPIU engineer, staffs from Helvetas and HRRP in Dubachaur, Melamchi-7.

Samjhana Giri, Kunchok, Indrawati Gaupalika
Her father, and two younger siblings died in earthquake. Their bodies could only be recovered 3 days later. The roof collapsed killing them all and both the children were in the arms of their father while the bodies were recovered. She stays with her mother and two other younger siblings. After that incident, she got mentally disturbed and could not continue her education. She quit school in spite of the efforts of various doctors and organizations to help her get back to school. She has taken a 6-months tailoring class and she sews clothes of her neighbors, and help her mother in agriculture and livestock. Her family is still staying in temporary Kalpana Giri, mother of Samjhana Giri, who shares her disheartening story of that incidence in earthquake which took away her husband and children. She shares how difficult it was for her to be strong and think of her 3 children and rescue the cattle(buffaloes, goats and cows) when 3 of the bodies laid inside the house for 3 days. "I didn't know if I should weep and moan over my husband and two small children when we were hopeless even to rescue their bodies for 3 days, or work to rescue the cattle as they were the only means I could sustain my family. Being a widow is challenging, especially when you are poor and there is no one you could look up to" shelter because the only earning source-her father, died during earthquake and they are now gathering some loans from their neighbors to construct their house before the deadline.

Fulmaya Shrestha, 26, Dobantar, Melamchi-11. She lives with her mother-in-law and a 6-years old son. Six months back, her husband jumped off in a river and died. She has passed +2 and was working in a local coroporate firm, but lost her job when it dismissed because of some internal problems. Now, she is constructing her own house with her mother-in-law. She says," We don't have the same techniques as men, and need to consult other men when we have confusions. I get tired easily while carrying stones. I couldn't participate in a mason training of Helvetas because I was working in office. Maybe I would have gotten better skills, but I had a small son and my family looks upto me for living. I would look for jobs after we finish this house"

Family of Jagat Bahadur Shrestha, Dobantar, Melamchi-11.

They do not have skilled masons from their village and masons come from Terai, who are expensive and difficult to get in such a peak time of construction. The whole family is working to construct the house which includes father, son, daughter and their spouses.

Raj Kumar Shrestha, Dobantar, Melamchi N.P. The house was constructed within a year after earthquake, when Government hadn't properly informed the citizens regarding its guidelines. It is a SMM house in the ground floor, and wood structure

Pramila Giri, Dubanchaur, Melamchi-8. She took a 7-days mason training and is now working as a mobile mason in JICA. Her family was supportive throughout her training in the first floor. It hasn't received 2nd tranche yet as it doesn't meet the opening criteria, and also room size is greater than permissible.

and even now when she is working in the field as a mason.
