

Humanitarian Response

Overview of DRR Program and Lesson learned in Cox's Bazar, Bangladesh

Lalit Bahadur Thapa

02 January 2019

Refugee situation and their settlements

- ❖ Total Rohingya Refugee families in Cox's Bazar: 215,046
- ❖ Total population in Cox's Bazar: 925,736
- ❖ 84% of refugees are living in collective sites (camps),
- ❖ 12% in collective sites with host communities, and
- ❖ 4% in dispersed sites in host communities.
- ❖ The number of Rohingya refugees, both registered and unregistered, residing in Cox's Bazar prior to August 2017 is estimated to be around 213,000 individuals.

Settlement in Jamtoli camp

International Supports

Bi-lateral Agencies

UN Agencies

International NGOs

National NGOs

Coordination and networking

Camp level coordination:

- Sector meetings (WASH, protection, GBV,
- Site management meeting
- CICs
- Forest Office,
- Fire Brigade and Defense Service
- UNO offices - Teknaf and Ukhiya

Cox's bazar level

- Cash working group (CWG) meeting
- Energy and Environment Technical Working Group (EETWG)
- Participating in Emergency Task Force (ETF) meeting
- Close contact with IOM and UNHCR.
- RRRC Office
- DC Office

Major hazards in Cox's bazar

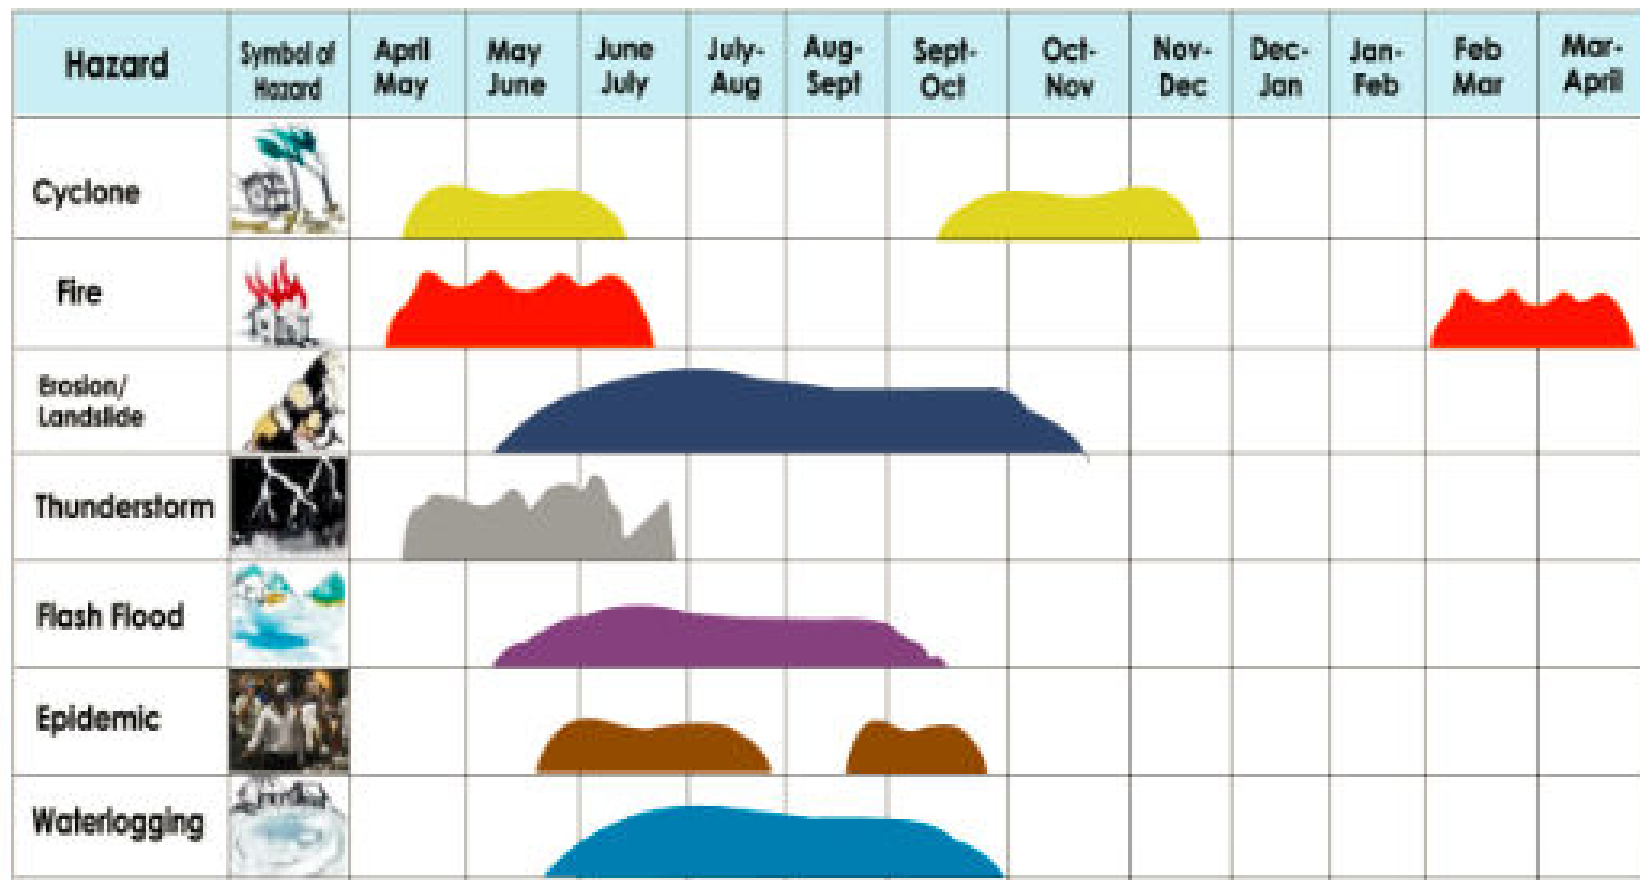

Photo glimpse

Photo glimpse (construction works)

Photo glimpse (emergency materials)

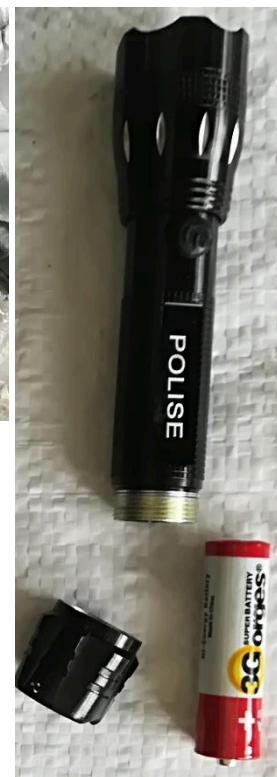

Photo glimpse (Early warning materials)

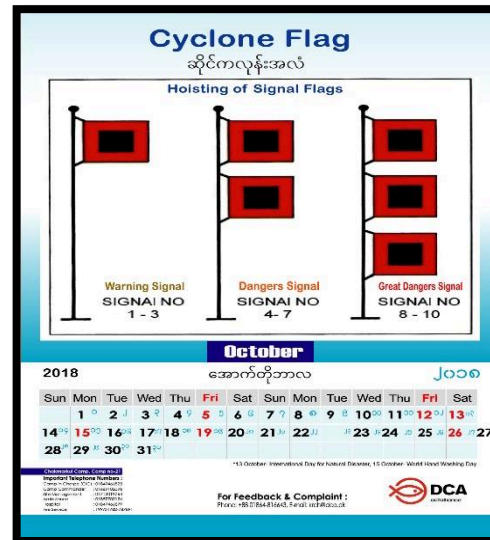

Photo glimpse (LPG distribution)

Photo glimpse-Simulation, Training , Meeting

Challenges:

Local government compliances on various level: camp level (CIC), Upa Zilla level (UNOs), District level (RRRC and DC office), Central level (NGOAB)

Interest of beneficiaries: Beneficiaries want cash. Market has been expanded by host community around the camps. Beneficiaries are selling relief items informally.

Targeting approach: Cash for work (female participation), LPG-blanket vs. targeting approach

Temporary types of construction: Very temporary structure but cost is high.

Administrative issues : A2 visa (UN agencies), N visa (NGO workers), T visa (respective embassy or visa on arrival)

Lessons learned:

Rohingya volunteer mobilization: Connected to Rohingya people, easy to communicate in local language, contribution to their daily life through small incentive.

Local government compliances on various level: camp level (CIC), Upa Zilla level (UNOs), District level (RRRC and DC office), Central level (NGOAB)

LPG support program: New activity, address specially to women and girls, contribute deforestation & greenery, clean energy, time saving, health improvement (respiration),

Direct Cash-in-hand program for LPG refilling-new initiation

Lessons learned:

Advocacy for cash based interventions: Interest of beneficiaries: Beneficiaries want cash. Market is expanding by host community around the camps. Beneficiaries are selling relief items informally.

Direct implementation: good visibility, program quality, in-depth involvement

Mega crisis: Context different, temporary types of works,

Host community: 30 % budget allocation for host community

Contribution to the local economy: vendors, employment generation, cash flow through various organization

Some consideration for future programming

- Different tiers of coordination mechanism
 - Government mechanism-CiC-RRRC/UNO-DC-NGOAB
 - Site management, sub sector (camp, UNO and district), ISCG
- Environment upgradation: LP gas support and tree plantation
- Advocacy for cash based interventions
- Permission for semi-permanent structure
- Suggestion to allocate at least 30 % budget to host communities
- Repatriation of Rohingya refugees-highly discussion

Thank you