Case Study

Housing reconstruction of vulnerable beneficiaries

Ms. Tirmaya Gurung got back smile on her faces after spending 3 years tragedy on tent houses. She lost all her support and wealth in earthquake, her husband along with their cattle died during grazing in field. She said, "Her house collapsed, and she felt as if she has fallen from so high that there is no hope to get there, eventually for some time she was depressed and just waiting the days to pass away". There was no one to help her, she was just managing to get 2 meals by doing some plantation on her field. She further elaborated that "She just see her neighborhood getting grown up and herself in a tent". But unfortunately, she was alone. There has been a lot of program, but no one could had addressed her issues.

Earlier she was not willing to build house. But after social facilitation, supported ODRC/UNDP and discussion with her cousin, she agreed to build houses. The Cousin gave a loan on zero interest, Nepal housing reconstruction program Gorkha, helped to link the contractor for her and provided on site consultation and technical support, within 3 months of time, the construction of Tirmaya Gurung's house was completed. She has received second tranche already, which was used for paying for labor and materials. Second inspection has also been completed and her third tranche is also in process.
