Remarks from DUDBC

Mr. Rajendra Khatiwada, Chief of DUDBC and Project Chief of DLPIU asked all the POs to put forward their concerns so that we can move ahead with clear mind. He also informed them that all the houses should be inspected and verified by the DLPIU engineers and asked everyone to work in the close collaboration and coordination with the DUDBC from the very beginning so that there is no room for the miscommunication later on. He also asked POs to cover the gap VDCs in terms of the mason training rather than covering the VDC that has already been covered. He appreciated the work of the POs in terms of the technical assistance being provided and asked them to support the beneficiaries by helping in making designs and getting approval for the same from the DUDBC as our common goal is to help beneficiaries in having the strong Earthquake resistant houses. He also shared that DLPIU is in need of more engineers and it is important that the trained masons used the technique they have learnt while building the houses.

Mr. Dhira Phadera also asked POs to maximize their resources by not duplicating the work, he also said that it is important to preserve culture and heritage of the VDC during the reconstruction. Collaboration and coordination with DUDBC will facilitate the overall process. During mason training, it is important to cover the upper belt as most of the trainings have been focused in the lower belt. He also shared that it would be good if we could have one model houses in every VDC to see and if the model houses be handed over to community rather than individual as whole community can benefit rather than one person or family.

AOB

Some of the issues raised during the meeting are:

- How to deal with the houses that has been fully build?
- Demand of block houses.

- Absence of disaster management and reconstruction committee in the VDCs.
- In some places like Gatlang, people want to build houses of timber but no approved design for the same.
- People have already completed the houses up to the DPC level and want the second tranche.
- Some people want to go to the neighboring VDC for building the houses as their land is totally damage.

Some of the way forward discussed

- POs to work with close collaboration and coordination with DUDBC and DLPIU engineers.
- Help in documenting the work of the building constructed by the beneficiaries by maintaining the file with photos and other relevant documents.
- It would be beneficial if technical persons from the POs can make designs within MRT and approve it from DUDBC and also help in making some common designs for the working VDCs.
- DLPIU engineers will be sent the field for the inspection pursuant to the orientation and once the inspection forms and checklist reach the VDC.
- Mr. Krishna Kant Upadhyaya to find out on the second tranche , inspection guidelines and about the some places of the district which is not safe to stay and similarly also to get update on the number of the reconstruction committees that has been formed so far.
- POs working in the reconstruction of private houses to meet every two weeks with DUDBC, NRA and other concerned Government bodies.
